“She was a strong, strong-willed, resilient person. Unfortunately the person she was toughest on was herself. She was a perfectionist and very self-sufficient person, who couldn’t always ask for help when she needed it. I wish she would have given herself the level of kindness she deserved, which she gave to everyone else in her family. I don’t know if she ever saw herself in a positive light, but we are very proud of her and I have learned many things from her which I will carry forever.”

Begravningen kommer att
äga rum senare i år.
